

artikulu nabarmenak
artículos destacados

2013

Gazteen
Euskal Behatokia
Observatorio Vasco
de la Juventud

September

Planas, Juan Antonio. Nuevas tendencias en la formación profesional.

The author discusses the current situation of vocational education and training (VET) in Spain and its future prospects. He reflects on the different existing VET models and results from a European perspective and mentions potential measures, such as enhancing the relationship between VET institutions and enterprises to adjust training to the demands of society, the introduction of professional associations or the promotion of integrated VET centres.

Aula de secundaria, n. 4, July-August 2013, p. 29-32

Lemus Arce, Rafel, Banyuls Llopis (coords.). ¿Qué es un centro de investigación y práctica?

Collection of articles, under the heading of the monthly topic, that explain the nature of a research and practical training centre as well as a number of different experiences. The main fields of action of these centres include: school and pedagogical organisation, training and professionalization of teaching as well as innovation and research.

Cuadernos de pedagogía, n. 437, September 2013, p. 42-71

Cabeza-García, Laura, González-Álvarez, Nuria. Redes sociales y docencia universitaria: el caso de Facebook.

The purpose of this article is to study the effects of social networks, specifically the creation of pages on Facebook, on the motivation, commitment and academic performance of university students. This initiative seems to be a teaching tool that helps to consolidate the teacher – student relationship.

Revista de ciencias de la educación, n. 234, April-June 2013, p. 199-217