

Basque Country youths aged 16 to 24 are the group that best values their housing and the surroundings, with an average score of 7.42 out of 10

During the confinement, the characteristics of people's housing have acquired a new significance. Therefore, the Basque Youth Observatory would like to provide data on the degree of satisfaction of young people in the Basque Country regarding their housing. These data have been taken from the website of Eustat, the Basque Statistics Institute.

According to the Eustat Personal Well-being Survey \(PWS\) of 2019, half of 16 to 24-year-olds display a high degree of satisfaction with their housing and environment (49.6%). Almost the same percentage display an intermediate degree of satisfaction (49.1%), and only 1.3% show a low degree of satisfaction with their housing and their housing environment. The average score that young people under 25 years of age give to their housing and the surroundings on a scale from 0 to 10 is 7.42, slightly higher than the score recorded among other age groups.

On the other hand, the evolution of the data between 2014 and 2019 shows that the percentage of young people under the age of 25 who display a high degree of satisfaction with their housing and surroundings has increased slightly (from 45.8% to 49.6%), this results in a slight increase in the average satisfaction score (from 7.24 to 7.42).

In the case of young people aged 25 to 34, this increase has been more prominent; the percentage of those who show a high level of satisfaction with their housing and surroundings has grown almost ten points, from 39.9% to 48.6%, and the average has increased from 7.08 to 7.36.
